Task 4: Professional Email And Etiquette Guide

Subject: Request for Extension on Assignment Submission

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope you are doing well. I am writing to request a short extension for the submission of my assignment due to some unavoidable personal reasons.

I sincerely apologize for the inconvenience caused. I assure you that I am working on the assignment and will submit it as soon as possible if granted a few extra days.

I kindly request you to consider my situation and grant me an extension.

Thank you for your understanding.

Yours sincerely,

Nilanjana

Email 2: Internship Request

Subject: Application for Summer Internship Opportunity

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope this email finds you well. I am a first-year Computer Science student and I am writing to express my interest in a summer internship opportunity at your organization.

I am eager to learn and gain practical experience in software development. I have basic knowledge of programming and problem-solving and I am keen to enhance my skills.

I would be grateful if you could consider my application for any suitable internship role.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Nilanjana

Situation Of Digital Poor Communication

Poor digital communication can lead to serious problems in both academic and professional environments. For example, if a student sends an unclear or informal email to a professor, it may create misunderstanding or be ignored. Similarly, spreading unverified information on social media can cause confusion and panic among people. Many individuals forward messages without checking their authenticity, which leads to misinformation. This can damage trust and relationships. To avoid such situations, it is important to communicate clearly, use proper language, and verify information before sharing. Being responsible and respectful in digital communication helps maintain professionalism and prevents unnecessary issues.
